WILLIAMS ELECTION WOULD MAKE ROW

Monteverde Probably Would Hold Over Pending Settlement of Contest.

In the event of Mr. Williams' election—an event of which he professes himself to be certain, but which is not admitted as a probable eventuality by Rowlett Paine and his associates on the Citizens' league ticket—there is considerable speculation as to what would happen.

Neither Mr. Paine nor his associates have yet presented any actual proof that Mr. Williams voted in DeSoto county, Mississippi, in 1915. Proof as to his vote is probably not needed, as he admits that he did vote in a legal primary election.

If he should be elected, and his eligibility be then attacked, before the coming of the new city commission next January, Mayor Monteverde would continue to hold office until his successor was qualified.

The contest would begin before the city commission. Probably no matter which way the members of the city commission decided, the question would be carried to the courts.

If the courts finally held that Mr. Williams was ineligible, then whoever stood next in the number of votes for mayor would be entitled to the office, as the courts would not invalidate the entire election because one candidate was ineligible.

Mr. Williams has, of course, made no political promises. But Mayor Monteverde is supporting him, presumably with the hope at least that if Mr. Williams is elected, his administration will support Mr. Monteverde in his race for county trustee next August.

Commissioner Quinn is looking still further ahead. He hopes to have the city political machine in such good running order before the close of his term next January that it may help in getting out a big Republican vote in Memphis in November, 1920. Of course, Mr.

WILSON DECLARES AGENTS BUSY

Farm Agents Could Not Exhibit at Tri-State Fair, Says Mississippian.

Sweeping denial that there was any truth in a statement made in an article in The News-Scimitar during the week of the Tri-State fair that North Mississippi counties did not exhibit in Agricultural hall because of the failure of county farm and home demonstration agents to co-operate on combined exhibits, has been made by R. S. Wilson, director of extension of the Mississippi Agricultural college. Mr. Wilson's letter, at his request, is published below.

The writer of The News-Scimitar article received the specific information to which Mr. Wilson takes exception, from R. E. Wilson, of Dresden, Tenn., one of the county agents who had an exhibit at the fair. This information was specifically confirmed by W. M. Landless, county agent of Shelby county, and superintendent of the county agents' exhibits at the fair. Previous to this, the writer had been led to believe from his own observation and discussions heard during the preparations for the fair, that Mississippi agents would not exhibit, because in certain instances the men farm agents and the women home demonstration agents were not willing to make a combined exhibit, as the fair association insisted.

It was the aim of the fair association in insisting on the combined exhibits that not only the progress made on the farms, but also in the homes of the tri-state territory should be revealed by the exhibits. Both Arkansas and West Tennessee extension agents fell in with the plan and made exhibits which reflected great credit on the rural populations of the two states and drew the admiration of the thousands who trooped through Agricultural hall during the week of the fair. The absence of Mississippi exhibits attracted attention and regret, as it was felt by the affectionate admirers of that great and fertile commonwealth that the exhibits of agricultural and domestic products from her northern counties would not only have made the Tri-State fair a better fair, but also in the home of Mississippi. The marvelous live stock exhibits sent by Mississippi to the fair only served to emphasize this absence of exhibits from the county agents and add to the sense of the incompleteness of Agricultural hall's exposition.

Mr. Wilson's letter follows: "Agricultural College, Miss., Sept. 26, 1919. "Editor Memphis News-Scimitar, "Memphis, Tenn.

"My Dear Sir: "A statement appeared in a recent issue of your paper to the effect that Mississippi had no county exhibits at the Tri-State fair. The reason that the farm demonstration agents and the home demonstration agents would not co-operate, I do not know who was responsible for this statement, but it was absolutely false.

"Several of our home demonstration agents have been exhibiting at the Tri-State fair for several years and were ready to do so again. The fair management made a ruling that nothing less than a county unit would be recognized. In other words, an exhibit from the home demonstration work in a county would not be accepted unless the farm demonstration agent exhibited also. We do not question the right of the fair association in adopting this rule, but it so happened that the farm demonstration agents in these particular counties, owing to the pressure of other work, were not in position to make exhibits. Therefore, under the rules of the fair association, the home demonstration agents were prohibited from exhibiting.

"Everyone in touch with the extension organization in Mississippi knows that a more harmonious organization does not exist in the country, and since the statement in your recent issue was uncalculated for and was a gross injustice to our organization, I hope you will give the same publicity to this correction.

"I am yours very truly, (Signed) "R. S. WILSON, "Director of Extension."

"Dodson's Liver Tone" Doesn't Sicken or Upset You Next Day—Best when Bilious, Constipated!

Don't take sickening, salivating Calomel when a few cents buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone—a perfect substitute for Calomel. Liquid which will start your liver just as surely as Calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and cannot sicken. Children and grown folks can take Dodson's Liver Tone, because it is perfectly harmless. Calomel is a dangerous drug. It is mercury and attacks your bones. Take a dose of nasty Calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone instead and you will wake up without any biliousness, constipation, sluggishness, headache, coated tongue or sour stomach. Your druggist says if you don't find Dodson's Liver Tone acts better than horrible Calomel your money is waiting for you.

STILL IS CAPTURED ON FARM NEAR CORINTH

CORINTH, Miss., Oct. 2. (Sp.)—J. J. Suratt, Henry Smith and Arthur Madison, raiding officers, captured a still Wednesday night on the property of Van Crum in the Glen community. It was one of considerable capacity and together with the paraphernalia and supplies was captured within 150 yards of the Crum home. No arrests were made, the still having been abandoned before the arrival of officers. Crum and his son are under bond to appear before the federal court at Aberdeen Monday on a charge of operating a still in the same vicinity.

ALCORN PIG CLUB HAS 400 MEMBERS

CORINTH, Miss., Oct. 2. (Sp.)—A little more than a year ago the Alcorn Soldiers' Pig Club was organized by Robert S. McEachern, county farm demonstrator. Now it has more than 400 members, and on Oct. 16 the first shipment of pigs from the club will be made. Boys who joined this club were required to set apart a pig from their herd, naming it for some Alcorn county boy who was in the service of his country, either in the army or the navy, and the sale this month will be the first to be made by the club.
